

TD Ameritrade Singapore Pte. Ltd.

A Guide to How We Use and Protect Client Information

TD Ameritrade Singapore's Pledge to You

The trust of our clients is our most precious asset. Protecting your privacy and safeguarding your personal and financial information is one of our highest priorities. The following Privacy Statement explains how TD Ameritrade Singapore Pte. Ltd. ("TD Ameritrade Singapore") collects, uses and/or discloses your personal information. If you have any questions that this statement does not address, please contact a Client Services representative. By opening a TD Ameritrade Singapore account or by using the TD Ameritrade Singapore website, you consent to the collection, use and/or disclosure of your personal information by TD Ameritrade Singapore as explained in this statement. Any dispute concerning our privacy practices subject to this statement and the TD Ameritrade Singapore Customer Agreement, including arbitration of disputes and limitation of damages.

Why does TD Ameritrade Singapore gather information?

Pursuant to the Personal Data Protection Act 2012 of Singapore, which went into effect July 2, 2014, TD Ameritrade Singapore is required to obtain your consent for the collection, use and/or disclosure of your personal data by TD Ameritrade Singapore, and for you to receive marketing promotions from TD Ameritrade Singapore. If we have collected or were already in possession of your personal data prior to July 2, 2014, we may have collected and been using your personal data for the original purposes for which your personal data was collected, including, but not limited to, marketing/promoting products or services to you. Subject to all applicable provisions under the Personal Data Protection Act, we may continue to use your personal data for such original purposes unless you withdraw consent for such use or indicate to us that you do not consent to such use. The collection, use and/or disclosure of your information includes, but is not limited to, your name, physical address, telephone number, taxpayer identification number and/or National Registration Identity Card number, and employment and financial information. Additionally, we may record and retain your communications with us or quality control purposes as well as for assistance in resolving misunderstandings.

For more information on the purposes for which we collect, use or disclose your personal data, please also refer to the TD Ameritrade Singapore Customer Agreement.

What information does TD Ameritrade Singapore collect?

The information we collect directly from you includes information required to communicate with you, including your name, mailing address, phone number, email address and fax number; and to identify who you are, including your taxpayer identification number and/or National Registration Identity Card number; and employer name and address.

To assess your experience in margin use and trading, we may also collect your approximate annual income, liquid net worth, and total net worth, to assess your financial position.

We also collect demographic information when you register through the site or request information on our products, including gender, birth date, education, and occupation.

The information we collect indirectly from you includes your Internet Protocol (IP) address, browser type, operating system, Internet Service Provider (ISP), time stamps, transactions placed, products or services used, prior and following website you view, and banner ads you click. We do this through the use of cookies, which are small text files sent from the Web server to your computer. Cookies help us to know you better by providing operational data we can use to aid your interaction with our website and improve its security, navigation, and usability.

When does TD Ameritrade Singapore obtain information?

You directly provide to us the majority of information we collect. You do this by completing the account application and related documentation, placing a trade, sending us an email for questions or comment, or submitting information in response to a promotion or special offer. Other ways we obtain information are (1) by observing your usage of the website, (2) by providing products and services to you, and (3) through other sources such as credit agencies, affiliates, and business partners. This information enables us to offer you products and services that should be of interest to you.

How does TD Ameritrade Singapore use your personal information?

We use personal information only as appropriate to provide you quality service and security.

For example, TD Ameritrade Singapore may use the information collected from you to verify your identity and contact information. We may also use this information to establish and set up your trading account, issue an account number and a secure password, maintain your portfolio and trading activity and contact you with account information. The collected information helps us improve our services to you, customise your browsing experience, and inform you about additional products, services, or promotions that may be of interest to you.

TD Ameritrade Singapore may also use demographic information on our clients provided by others, so that we can develop products and services for our clients.

Should you close your account with us, TD Ameritrade Singapore will retain your information as needed to comply with regulatory requirements.

What information does TD Ameritrade Singapore share with affiliated companies?

TD Ameritrade Singapore will share information with affiliates if the information is required to provide a product or service you have requested. An affiliate is a company that we own or control or with which there is common ownership with us and our parent company. TD Ameritrade Singapore is a subsidiary of TD Ameritrade Holding Corporation ("TD Ameritrade") and so is an affiliate of TD Ameritrade and its subsidiaries. TD Ameritrade Holding Corporation is a wholly owned subsidiary of The Charles Schwab Corporation.

You may limit our affiliates in marketing their products or services to you based on personal information that we collect about you and share with them. This information may include your name, email address, mailing address, age, employment status, general account and demographic information, and account history with us. Your choice to limit marketing offers from our affiliates will apply until you tell us to change your choice. You can opt back in at any time.

To limit affiliate marketing offers:

- Contact us by phone at +65 6823 2250
- Change your preferences on the Affiliate Marketing Opt-Out page
- Send an email to opt-out@tdameritrade.com.sg with the words "opt-out" in the subject line from the email account associated with your account(s)

An opt-out election made by one account owner of a Joint account is applicable to all account owners of the Joint account. An opt-out election must be made for each separate account you hold at TD Ameritrade Singapore.

Does TD Ameritrade Singapore share the information collected with any other third parties?

TD Ameritrade Singapore does not sell, license, lease, or otherwise disclose your personal information to any third party for purposes of marketing by the third party, or for any reason, except as described below:

- In order to administer or process a transaction, product, or service you have authorised or requested or in connection with settling a transaction. For example, we may be required to deliver personal information about you to third parties for certain investments, and to perform electronic funds transfers and wires.
- We may disclose personal information about you to third parties or to government entities as required by law or regulation or in response to subpoenas, to credit bureaus and collection agencies, or when necessary to protect your rights or property or that of TD Ameritrade Singapore.
- To help us improve our services to you, we may engage another business to help us to carry out certain internal functions such as account processing, fulfillment, client service, client satisfaction surveys, or other data collection activities relevant to our business. We may also provide a party with client information from our database to help us to analyze and identify client needs and notify clients of product and service offerings. Use of the information shared is strictly limited to the performance of the task we request and for no other purpose.
- If you decide to participate in certain promotions and special offers, the promotion may require us to gather and share your personal information or may require you to supply personal information to the promotion sponsor, which may be a third party. For example, a referral program may require that we provide your name as a reference to a prospective client. It is always your choice whether or not to participate. If at any time you choose to purchase a product or service offered by another company, any personal information you share with that company will no longer be controlled under our Privacy Statement.

All third parties with which we share personal information are required to protect personal information in a manner similar to the way we protect personal information.

If we propose to share information in a manner not covered in this Privacy Statement, we will notify you of this change by posting an addendum on the website, sending you an email notice, and if appropriate, provide you an opportunity to opt-out of such use.

Can I opt-out of sharing my personal information with non-affiliated third parties for marketing purposes?

Because we do not share information with non-affiliated third parties for marketing purposes without your prior permission, there is no need to opt-out.

Can I opt-out of receiving certain information?

Yes. You can control your communications preferences on the Communications Preferences Page for your account. If you want to opt-out of receiving all direct marketing communication from TD Ameritrade Singapore, you can send an email to opt-out@tdameritrade.com.sg with the word "unsubscribe" in the subject line from the email account associated with your account(s). In doing so, you will be identified as a client who does not care to be contacted by us through direct communication for additional product and service offerings or inquiries. An opt-out election made by one account owner of a Joint account is applicable to all account owners of the Joint account. An opt-out election must be made for each account you hold at TD Ameritrade Singapore with a unique email address. This opt-out will not apply to communications required to service your account.

Can I withdraw my consent in respect to the collection, use or disclosure of my personal data held by TD Ameritrade Singapore?

If you do not wish for TD Ameritrade Singapore to collect, retain, use or disclose your personal data, to the extent applicable under Singapore personal data protection laws and regulations, you may withdraw your consent at any time by emailing privacy@tdameritrade.com.sg or by calling +65 6823-2250. However, depending on the circumstances and the nature/extent of your withdrawal, your withdrawal of consent may result in TD Ameritrade Singapore's inability to open or maintain account(s) for you or to provide you with services and products, and hence may result in the termination of your relationship and/or account(s) with TD Ameritrade Singapore or result in other consequences of a legal nature which may arise by virtue of your legal relationship with Charles Schwab Singapore.

Does TD Ameritrade Singapore's Privacy Statement apply to the sites to which we link?

No. We are not responsible for the privacy policies or the content of sites we link to and have no control of the use or protection of information provided by you or collected by those sites. Whenever you elect to link to a co-branded website or to a linked website, you may be asked to provide registration or other information. Please note that the information you are providing is going to a third party and you should familiarise yourself with the privacy policy provided by that third party.

What steps does TD Ameritrade Singapore take to protect our clients' personal information?

We have made a significant investment in leading-edge security software, systems, and procedures to offer you a safe and secure trading environment and to protect your personal, financial, and trading information. While no security system is absolutely impenetrable, we are constantly reviewing, refining, and upgrading our security technology, as new tools become available.

When you open an account with us, you are issued a unique account number and a personal identification number (PIN). Upon log-in, you may also be asked to create a UserID and password to access the website. Remember: you are ultimately responsible for maintaining the secrecy of your account number, PIN, UserID, and password. We strongly recommend that you do not disclose this information.

On our trading website, we use technology to encrypt information transmitted by or to you through our website. We use VeriSign™ certificates to authenticate our website, allowing you to verify that you are connected to our website. In order to activate this technology, you need to utilise a browser like Firefox®, Safari®, or Microsoft® Internet Explorer. We recommend that you choose a browser with strong encryption capabilities.

What about “cookies” and other tracking devices?

We use cookies to assist us in securing your trading activities and to enhance the performance of our website. (Cookies are small text files sent from the Web server to your computer.) Cookies used by TD Ameritrade Singapore do not contain any personal information nor do they contain account, PIN, or password information.

Cookies also may be placed by third parties when you access their sites through linking from this website. We do not have access to these cookies or any information that these cookies may contain. Please contact the third-party site for more information on these cookies. Although we encourage third parties to adhere to appropriate privacy policies and standards, we are not responsible for the actions or policies of such parties.

TD Ameritrade Singapore may share website usage information about visitors to the website with reputable advertising companies for targeting our Internet banner advertisements on this site and other sites. For this purpose pixel tags (also called clear gifs) may be used to note the pages you've visited. The information collected by the advertising company through the use of these pixel tags is not personally identifiable. These advertising companies have their own privacy policies. You can learn more and control how these companies collect information on web pages across the internet at <http://www.networkadvertising.org/choices>.

To administer and improve the TD Ameritrade Singapore website, we may use a third party to track and analyze usage and volume statistical information, including page requests, form requests, and click paths. All data collected for this purpose is owned and used by TD Ameritrade Singapore. The third party may use cookies to track behavior and may set cookies on behalf of TD Ameritrade Singapore. These cookies do not contain any personally identifiable information.

Will I be able to review, change, or correct my information?

Yes. Personal identifying information may be reviewed, changed, or corrected at any time. To change your personal information, log in to your TD Ameritrade account and update Personal information under “My Profile.” For your security, we do not display your sensitive identifying information in your User Profile. To request that information, login to your account. Under User Profile, select Generate User Profile, and follow the instructions.

You are responsible for maintaining the accuracy and completeness of your personal and other information. We urge you to review your information regularly to ensure that it is correct and complete. If you would like to review your personal information, believe that any of your information is incorrect, have questions regarding your personal information, or have any other questions or concerns regarding this privacy policy, simply contact a Client Services representative at +65 6823 2250.

How will I know if there are any changes to this Privacy Statement?

In the event TD Ameritrade Singapore materially changes this Privacy Statement, the revised Privacy Statement will promptly be posted to the website and we will post a notice on the website informing you of such changes. Additionally, this Privacy Statement has an effective date displayed in the lower right corner indicating when it first came into effect. You should review this Privacy Statement periodically to remain informed of any changes. You agree to accept posting of a revised Privacy Statement electronically on the website as actual notice to you.

What if I have questions, complaints, or comments about privacy matters?

We're strongly committed to our relationship with you and want to be sure you understand the steps we have taken to protect your personal information. If you have any questions, complaints, or comments, please call us at +65 6823 2250 or email privacy@tdameritrade.com.sg.
