WHAT DOES TD AMERITRADE DO WITH YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION?

Why?
Financial companies choose how they share your personal information. Federal law gives consumers the right to limit some but not all sharing. Federal law also requires us to tell you how we collect, share, and protect your personal information. Please read this notice carefully to understand what we do.

What?
The types of personal information we collect and share depend on the product or service you have with us. This information can include:
- Social Security number and financial account numbers
- Account balances and transaction information
- Income and employment information

How?
All financial companies need to share customers’ personal information to run their everyday business. In the section below, we list the reasons financial companies can share their customers’ personal information; the reasons TD Ameritrade chooses to share; and whether you can limit this sharing.

Who we are

Who is providing this notice? TD Ameritrade, Inc. and its divisions and TD Ameritrade Holding Corporation and its family of companies, including TD Ameritrade Investment Management, LLC.

What we do

How does TD Ameritrade protect my personal information? To protect your personal information from unauthorized access and use, we use security measures that comply with federal law. These measures include computer safeguards and secured files and buildings.
For more information, please visit tdameritrade.com/security.page.

How does TD Ameritrade collect my personal information? We collect your personal information, for example, when you
- Open an account or make deposits or withdrawals from your account
- Direct us to buy securities or direct us to sell your securities
- Tell us about your investment or retirement portfolio
We also collect your personal information from others, such as credit bureaus, affiliates, or other companies.

Why can't I limit all sharing? Federal law gives you the right to limit only
- Sharing for affiliates’ everyday business purposes—information about your creditworthiness
- Affiliates from using your information to market to you
- Sharing for nonaffiliates to market to you
State laws and individual companies may give you additional rights to limit sharing. See below for more on your rights under state law.

What happens when I limit sharing for an account I hold jointly with someone else? Your choices will apply to everyone on your account.
