

Maximize your savings with a SEP IRA.

Tax-deductible contributions: up to $55,000 for 2018

Avoid paperwork and plan maintenance

Flexible contributions: only contribute when it's right for you

What is a SEP IRA?

A Simplified Employee Pension (SEP) IRA is a retirement plan for self-employed individuals and small business owners with or without employees and completely funded by the owner with tax-deductible contributions. These contributions grow tax-deferred while in the plan.

Who is a SEP IRA best suited for?

- Sole proprietors
- Freelancers
- Independent contractors
- Self-employed individuals
- Part-time business owners
- Individuals earning self-employment income from side jobs outside of their full-time jobs
- Small businesses with no current business retirement plan

What are the key benefits of a SEP IRA?

- It offers tax-deductible contributions for your business (or for you if you are a sole proprietor) and tax-deferred growth potential on account balance.
- Flexibility eliminates the need to make contributions every year, and the amount contributed can change year to year. This makes it a smart option to consider for businesses with varying profits.
- It's easy to set up and easy to maintain. You don't need to file the plan or additional paperwork with the IRS. TD Ameritrade will take care of the required contribution and distribution filings for you.
- There are no setup or account maintenance fees at TD Ameritrade. Commissions, service, and exception fees still apply.

What do I need to know about contributions?

- For tax year 2018, the contribution limit is the lesser of 25% of compensation or $55,000 ($56,000 for 2019).
- SEP contributions are discretionary each year and must come from the employer only.
- No employees may make SEP contributions or deferrals.
- Contribution deadline is the employer's tax filing deadline, including extensions (For example: for sole proprietors, April 15, 2019, for the 2018 tax year or until October 15, 2019, if a tax extension was obtained).
- Simplify the process of calculating contributions and determining employee eligibility in your business retirement plan with the Small Business Retirement Contribution Calculator.
- Contact your accountant or tax advisor to learn more about what makes sense for your business and circumstances.

How are rollovers and transfers handled?

- A SEP IRA is a form of IRA that may accept rollovers and transfers into the plan.
- You may also roll over or transfer your SEP IRA to another SEP IRA or to a traditional IRA.

What about distributions?

- Distributions from a SEP IRA may be subject to tax and a 10% early withdrawal penalty if under age 59 1/2.
- Minimum required distributions start at age 70 1/2.

How do I set up a SEP IRA?

1. Apply online at tdameritrade.com/smallbusiness or by completing and mailing in the IRA form.^{*} Be sure to select SEP IRA under the type of IRA.
2. TD Ameritrade will send you the IRS Form 5305-SEP. You must complete, sign, and retain the form for your records.
3. You may fund the SEP upon opening the account or after the SEP has been established via check, direct deposit, or wire transfer.

If you have eligible employees, you will need to provide each employee a copy of the completed Form 5305-SEP and ask them to open a SEP IRA employee account. As an employer, you are required to make contributions into your employees' SEP IRAs whenever you do so for yourself.

Where can I learn additional details?

- Please refer to IRS Publication 560, Publication 4333, and the IRS page on SEP IRAs for additional details.

Special information for business owners with employees:

Which of my employees must be included?

- Each employee must be included in the plan if he or she is an individual (including the employer) who:
 - Has reached age 21
 - Has worked a minimum of one hour for the employer in at least three of the previous five years
 - Received at least $600 in compensation from the employer during the current year (the year the employer is making the contribution for)
- An employer can use less restrictive participation requirements than those listed above but not more restrictive ones.

For example, an employer could change the service requirements to:

- Two out of the previous five years of service
- One out of the previous five years of service
- Zero years

An employer could change the minimum age required to:

- 20, 19, 18, or even no age requirement

- An employer can exclude union employees and nonresident aliens but must include part-time and seasonal workers, as well as workers no longer employed at the end of the year, if they meet the eligibility requirements above.
- Tip: If you or your spouse own multiple businesses, you may have to cover all of your employees for all owned businesses under this plan. Consult a tax advisor for more details.

Remember: The business owner must also meet all requirements to qualify for a contribution.
