Match employee contributions with a SIMPLE IRA.

What is a SIMPLE IRA?
A Savings Incentive Match Plan for Employees (SIMPLE) IRA is an easy-to-administer salary deferral retirement plan that allows both the employer and employees to contribute to employee retirement accounts. There are tax benefits for employer contributions and for employees who make pretax contributions. This plan is ideal for businesses with steady profits who want to allow pretax employee contributions like 401(k) plans do. Your business may deduct all contributions made to the plan, as long as IRS contribution limits are not exceeded.

Who is a SIMPLE IRA best suited for?
Small business owners with up to 100 employees and steady profits who want their employees to be able to contribute to their retirement.

What are the key benefits of a SIMPLE IRA?
- A SIMPLE IRA offers tax-deductible contributions for your business, pretax contributions for your employees, and tax-deferred growth potential on contributions.
- Employees are not required to make contributions and are always 100 percent vested in their SIMPLE IRA money.
- By choosing the match, employers only contribute to those employees who also contribute for themselves. The employer matches his or her own pretax deferral contribution as well.
- There are no special employer IRS tax filing requirements.
- There are no setup or account maintenance fees. Commissions, service, and exception fees may apply.

What do I need to know about contributions?
- Employees may contribute up to $13,500 per year in salary deferrals, or $16,500 for employees age 50 and up for 2020. If an employee has elective salary deferrals in other employer plans during the year, the total amount of salary deferrals for all plans cannot exceed $19,500 for 2020 ($26,000 if age 50 and up).
- Employers must make contributions to employee accounts in one of two ways:
  - Employers must match employees’ contributions dollar for dollar up to 3 percent of each employee’s compensation (which can be reduced to 1 percent in any two out of five years), OR
  - Employers must make contributions for all employees, including those who do not make contributions, in a nonelective amount of 2 percent of each employee’s compensation.
- Business owners may not make both match and nonelective contributions in the same year. You also cannot make a larger match or nonelective contribution than the IRS limit.
- Employer contributions (match or nonelective) must be made prior to the employer’s tax filing deadline, including extensions. Employee salary deferrals must be contributed as soon as possible after withholding from the employee’s pay.
- Contact your accountant or tax advisor to learn more about what makes sense for your business and circumstances.
How are rollovers and transfers handled?

- A SIMPLE IRA is a form of IRA that may accept rollovers and transfers into the plan but only from other SIMPLE IRA plans.
- If you’ve had a SIMPLE IRA for at least two years, you may roll over or transfer your plan to a traditional IRA or another SIMPLE IRA. Prior to two years, however, you may only roll over or transfer your plan to another SIMPLE IRA.

What about distributions?

- Distributions from a SIMPLE IRA may be subject to tax and a 10 percent early withdrawal penalty if you are under age 59 1/2, but exceptions may apply. This IRS penalty is increased to 25 percent if you have not had your SIMPLE IRA account for at least two years.
- Minimum required distributions start at age 72 (unless you turned 70 1/2 prior to January 1, 2020; then you must start taking your RMD at age 70 1/2).

How do I set up a SIMPLE IRA?

1. Apply online at tdameritrade.com/smallbusiness or by completing and mailing in the IRA form.* Be sure to select SIMPLE IRA on the application.
2. TD Ameritrade will send you the IRS Form 5304-SIMPLE and Form 5305-SIMPLE. You will need to choose one form and complete, sign, and return the form to TD Ameritrade to establish your plan.
3. You may fund the SIMPLE IRA upon opening the account or after the SIMPLE IRA has been established via check or direct deposit. The employer will need to send in the employee deferral contributions on a timely basis per IRS/Department of Labor guidance, typically no later than 30 days after the month the amount would have been payable to the employee had it not been deferred.

Your eligible employees must each complete and provide you with their deferral percentage and their SIMPLE IRA account number so you know how much to take out and deposit to their plan. When you send in the check/wire, provide a detailed breakdown using the SIMPLE/SEP contribution worksheet so that we can credit the employee accounts correctly.

Where can I learn additional details?

- Please refer to IRS Publications 560 and 4334 and the IRS page on SIMPLE IRAs for additional details.

Which of my employees can participate?

- Eligible employees include those who:
  - Earned at least $5,000 in compensation during any two years before the current calendar year and
  - Expect to receive at least $5,000 in compensation during the current calendar year
- An employer can use less restrictive participation requirements than those listed above but not more restrictive ones. For example, an employer can eliminate or reduce the prior or current year compensation amounts.
- Nonresident aliens are generally excluded from the plan. An employer may also choose to exclude certain union employees.
- Tip: If you own multiple businesses, you may have to cover all of your employees under this plan. Consult a tax advisor for more details.

Remember: The business owner must also meet all requirements to qualify for a contribution.

What are the annual requirements?

Before the beginning of each annual “election period,” which starts 60 days before the calendar year begins (usually by November 2), you must provide each employee with the following information:

1. Their opportunity to make or change a salary reduction choice under the SIMPLE IRA plan for the upcoming year.
2. Their ability to select a financial institution that will serve as trustee of their SIMPLE IRA.
3. Your decision to make either matched or nonelective contributions in the next year.
4. A completed summary description. (Note: A partially completed version is provided by TD Ameritrade each year.)
