Margin Privileges

All qualified accounts are opened as margin accounts unless you decline margin privileges in this section. A margin account allows you to borrow from TD Ameritrade against certain securities as your collateral. A decline in the value of your securities may require you to provide additional funds, or you may force the sale of securities in your account. Selling short can expose you to potentially unlimited risk. To learn more about the potential benefits of margin borrowing and the associated risks involved, read the Margin Account Handbook and the Margin Disclosure Document located within the forms library: <https://www.tdameritrade.com/form-library>. The undersigned acknowledge that, if the account is for an IRA, LLC: the use of margin may generate unrelated business taxable income ("UBTI") with respect to the IRA(s) investing in the IRA, LLC; and TD Ameritrade shall have no responsibility for preparing or making any required filings with the Internal Revenue Service (including, but not limited to, IRS Form 990-T), or for payment of any required taxes with respect to such UBTI. You must decline margin privileges if the governing documents of the Entity do not authorize margin borrowing.

- Check this box if you want to decline margin privileges. If you do not check the box, your account will be opened as a margin account if it qualifies. By submitting this Account Application without checking the box to decline margin privileges, you represent that you understand and agree that margin features are subject to the terms and conditions of the Client Agreement, which you have agreed to by submitting this Account Application. You understand and acknowledge that securities securing loans from TD Ameritrade may be lent to TD Ameritrade and lent by TD Ameritrade to others. You also acknowledge that if you trade "on margin" you are borrowing money from TD Ameritrade and that you understand the requirements and risks associated with margin as summarized in the Margin Account Handbook and Margin Disclosure Document.

By my signature below, I authorize TD Ameritrade to obtain consumer or credit reports for the name(s) set forth below. I understand that non-deposit investments purchased through TD Ameritrade are not insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC), are not obligations of or guaranteed by any financial institution, and are subject to investment risk and loss that may exceed the principal invested. Unless I have declined the margin feature, I acknowledge that securities securing loans from TD Ameritrade may be lent to TD Ameritrade and lent by TD Ameritrade to others. I also acknowledge that if I trade "on margin," I am borrowing money from TD Ameritrade and that I understand the requirements and risks associated with margin as summarized in the Margin Handbook and Margin Disclosure Document. If I trade "on margin", I represent, warrant, and certify that all documents, agreements and applicable laws governing the Entity permit the establishment and maintenance of a margin account and options trading, as applicable.

Important information about procedures for opening a new account:

To help the government fight the funding of terrorism and money laundering activities, federal law requires all financial institutions to obtain, verify, and record information that identifies each person who opens an account.

What this means for you: When you open an account, we will ask for your name, address, date of birth, and other information that will allow us to identify you. We may also utilize a third-party information provider for verification purposes and/or ask for a copy of your driver's license or other identifying documents. By my signature below, I attest that I am of legal age to contract, and I certify, to the best of my knowledge that the information provided on this application is complete and correct.

All Authorized Agents and Officers must provide their signatures below.

For Trust and Business Accounts: If I have applied for margin and/or options privileges on behalf of a Trust, Sole Proprietorship, Corporation, Partnership, Limited Partnership, LLC, Investment Club or other entity, by signing below, I hereby represent, warrant and certify that all documents, agreements and applicable laws governing such Trust or Business permit the establishment and maintenance of a margin account and options trading, as applicable.

If an options account has been requested, the undersigned (Authorized Agents) agree to abide by the rules of the listed options exchanges and the Options Clearing Corporation, and will not violate current position and exercise limits. We are aware of the risks involved in options trading and represent the fact that the Entity is financially able to bear such risks and withstand options-trading losses.
